APPLICATIONS DEVELOPED

Mexel

Full stack application that allows users to play videos and save to a playlist for subsequent viewing

- Implements login functionality and authorizes user access through the use of JWT tokens
- Enables video playback by calling youtube API using user submitted URL and retrieving video metadata
- Employs SQL to perform CRUD operations via PostgreSQL database, allowing subsequent playbacks
- Integrated Tailwind classes to enhance user experience with UI and allow for responsiveness on all platforms

DishDiscover

Front-end web application where users can search for a list of recipes based on different search parameters

- Retrieved recipe data from public API asynchronously using user inputted criteria as search parameters
- Incorporated user ability to view recipe information through the use of Javascript event listeners and callbacks
- Ensured application is responsive on both mobile devices and desktop computers utilizing CSS media queries
